Feeding guide:

Fresh drinking water should be available at all times. Individual dog's requirements may differ from this guide. The amount of food that a dog requires will depend on factors such as breed and level of activity. Adjust the amount given to keep your dog in lean condition. Water or gravy may be added. Feeding for the first time? Most dogs take a little time to adapt to new food. Try mixing the new complete food with your dog's normal food and then gradually change the portions over about seven days. Store in a cool and dry place. For batch number and best before date, see back of the package
